In the celebration of Ramadan and Eid al-Fitr, a fun day was organized by the drama therapist for the inpatient children at the hospital. The activity which was sponsored by the Union of Charitable Societies in Jerusalem gave opportunity to inpatient children to access to fun and play in an interactive and enriching environment along with their peers. Based on BASR’s rooted belief that rehabilitation is a holistic process, the activity aims at promoting their psychosocial wellbeing and recovery.

During the day, wide range of activities were conducted including games, drama performances, face painting, singing and dancing among the others. The children enjoyed the afternoon making handicrafts and cards for their friends and family. Besides, It was noted that they were very interactive in the activities by deciding or suggesting other activities they wish to participate in.
The fun day ended with a story around the theme of holidays and celebrations in Palestine in an enjoyable environment that BASR is seeking to achieve with its beneficiaries.
