The toy libraries at Nahalin, Alkhader, Dheisheh and Obedieh were busy all month long with the activities that a total of 242 children between the age of 4 and 12 attended. The children learned how to make their own toys and handicrafts out of recycle materials from their surroundings. The children enjoyed transforming those materials and making them into something completely different than their original state. Other summer activities and camps will be held at the day care community centers for children with and without disabilities this summer.
