BASR Cochlear implantation and rehabilitation team participated in a launch seminar of a project entitled “support to people who suffer from hearing loss in Palestine by enhancing their access to inclusive health care, rehabilitation and education services.”

The Conference was inaugurated by Father Ibrahim Faltas president of John Paul II Foundation, who welcomed all participants and thanked the Consul General of Italy for the support given to the health care system of the Palestinian people.

Mr. David La Cecilia the Consul General of Italy in Jerusalem expressed the Italian interest in supporting the Health Care System of Palestine, by recently funding the construction of a new hospital in Dura city at the south of Hebron district.
The Palestinian Minister of Health Dr. Jawad Awad, explained to the audience the current political and economic turbulent ... on the urgent need to draw higher attention by the international community for supporting the health care in Palestine.

Dr. Franco Trabalzini, Chief of Otolaryngology Univ. Osp. Siena talked about new methods applied within early intervention as soon as possible for improving brainstem development of children with hearing disability.

BASR’s ENT Specialized Dr. Jamil Qumsieh presented BASR’s holistic approach in rendering high quality comprehensive ... there’s still around 300 patients from marginalized areas waiting to receive such advanced and highly expensive services.

Such conference will pave the way for building collaborative efforts on implementing the project that includes Italian experts and Palestinian medical and rehabilitative team on utilizing advanced technologies in ENT and audiology.
At the end of the conference, BASR cochlear team in cooperation with Caritas Baby Hospital and Effeta Institute will be responsible for enrolling students at inclusive primary and secondary education.
BASR Participates in a Launch Seminar on Supporting the Rights of People with Hearing Disability in Palestine